WORLD WANTS MORE SPEED

OCEAN steamers, 900 feet in length, costing more than $21,-U 000,000 each, able to cross the Atlantic in four days, are proposed by a corporation in New York, to meet the demand of travelers who regard speed as of first importance.

It is an effort to provide speed on water comparable with the rapid transit developed in recent years on land. Engineers and shipping experts from Europe and America have studied the plans and are agreed the vessels can be built and do the task proposed. They expect to see the four-day ocean steamer line in operation during the years immediately ahead.

Aid from this government is sought in building the first steamer and making a practical test of the super-speed boat, and government officials at Washington are reported to have shown great interest. The plans have been made public and the subject is before shipping men, capitalists, officials and the public. These steamers would be operated by turbines, would have a maximum of 160,000-horse power, carry 800 passengers, with an abundance of space for mail and freight, and would be expected to make 35 knots per hour. Figures show an average speed slightly under 33 knots would be required over the entire course to make the fourday trip.

At the same time in Europe and America plans are under way for constructing great dirigibles, with capacity for 100 passengers, able to fly across the Atlantic in about 38 hours. There is not so much new in the dirigible proposal as in the suggestion of the giant tomorrow 6:52. steamers. GENERAL MOTORS DEALERS

A message which the public is invited to read

OR the past year General Motors has been advising purchasers of new automobiles to remember the five basic facts regarding the trade-in of used cars, which are repeated at the left.

Through this advertising many buyers have come to realize that the largest trade-in allowance is not necessarily the best deal; and that the important question is not "What is the most I can get for my used car?" but "What is the most I can get for my money?"

We shall continue, from time to time, to republish these basic facts.

As General Motors dealers, you are fully conscious of the tremendous importance of reselling used cars on a basis that will increase public good-will.

The used car business is a vital service to millions of families who want dependable transportation at a low cost and it is your largest opportunity for making millions of new friends.

During 1928, General Motors will endeavor to direct the attention of used car buyers to the used cars offered by you—its thousands of dealers—knowing that in your stores they will find a frank presentation of the merchandise, dependable values, and a determination to have every sale contribute to future good-will.

New Bath, Kitchen Paper

Bright cheerful papers are quite new and we have a wonderful selection. Some come in washable, many in wax, as well as the ordinary kind. Every woman should be interested in such charming papers for her kitchen.

First Showing

of the

New 1928 Wall Papers

I can tell you today about the new papers for after months of looking at manufacturers samples, visiting the Wall Paper convention, and Mill, we have gathered one of the finest showings of Beautiful Wall Hangings in all Pennsylvania.

I do not think I can say that any one color dominates the new papers, there has been an extensive use of metal in all lines. There is two reasons for this, metal will brighten up a dark design without introducing more color than desired and the second is the richness it creates, as most people know colorful wall paper is the vogue-even more so than last year.

It is hard to describe the new designs, there are so many to choose from, perhaps the newest are those graceful freehand effects, just as though the designer has drawn from life and then colored up the drawing with natural tints, particularly new and beautiful too are the new engravures, on the wall they give every effect of rich Tapestries or Brocades.

Unusually beautiful are the new Bedroom Hangings, soft background of peach, grey, ivory, beige, and green, over-printed with the colors of every known flower, in Floral, Colonial, and Chintz designs. They compare favorably with the more expensive imported papers.

Face the truth about body odor

Don't risk embarrassment_this toilet soap purifies

How shocked we would be if anyone ever told us that we were guilty of body odor! Of course, no one would be so in-delicate. But the truth remains that anyone of us may offend.

To live, we must perspire. Even on cold days our pores give off invisible perspiration-often as much as a quart of waste each 24 hours.

This body moisture, whether it can be seen or not, is always odorous. And it never plays favorites. Housewife or banker - laborer or society debutante - all may offend unless they take precautions.

But while others notice body odor instantly—the offender doesn't.

Don't take chances. To avoid embarrassment, just wash and bathe often with the world's most delightful toilet soap - Lifebuoy - it deodorizes.

The same gentle, antiseptic lather that helps protect health by removing germs-prevents body odor by purifying pores. And Lifebuoy keeps complexions so fresh and clear! You'll enjoy it for every purpose.

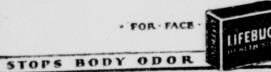

Note its hygienic scent You will learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clean scent, which tells you Lifebuoy purifies, yet which quickly evaporates after rinsing. Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for

Dempsey Willing To Fight Tunney

Former Heavyweight Champion Again Changes Mind About Retirement

Next September

NE WYORK, Feb. 15.—Jack Dempsey today virtually declared himself back in the heavyweight championship sweepstakes, repudiating the announcement of his withdrawal by statement of Gene Tunney and his own "Yes, yes" interview in Los Angeles. In just so many words, over his own signature, he proclaimed the fact that he would accept the September date with Tunney "if offered and in condition.

In brief and to the point, the most retiring man in public life has reversed his field and this time is resent east to Frank G. Menke, sport critic and Dempsey's very personal friend, and to the editor of The Ring, a local boxing publication. In addition, he is supposed to have spoken virtually the same piece to Gus Abbott has moved the Lincoln, Wilson, his trainer, over the long distance telephone last Friday night.
